

McLAUGHLIN COLLEGE

As part of our popular Lunch Talk series
McLaughlin College Proudly Presents:

"How We Teach Values"

Presented by:

DANIELLE THIBODEAU

Join us to discuss the backlash to Ontario's sex education curriculum, and the challenge of promoting real multi-culturalism in a public education setting.

Danielle Thibodeau is an educator with experience in innovative program creation and multiple-stakeholder partnership development, with a particular focus on issues of access and equity. She has a Master of Public Policy, Administration and Law from York University, a Masters of Education from OISE/UT, and is currently a program coordinator at Hart House at the University of Toronto.*
