Artificial Intelligence: Accept, Accelerate, Modify, Reject? Issues and Perspectives

A Panel Discussion via Zoom on Wednesday, November 4, 2026, from noon to 1:30 p.m.

Carson Johnston is a PhD candidate in Philosophy at the University of Western Ontario. Her research is supported in part by funding from SSHRC.

Dimitrios Kagiliaris is a PhD student in Philosophy at York University. His current work explores the potential of Large Language Models (LLMs) to illuminate the structure of normative thought.

Lucas Kayssi is a PhD student in Philosophy at York University. His research in AI focuses on social cognition, empathy, and value alignment.

Should we accept AI unconditionally, promote its development, modify its presence, or reject it carte blanche? Our panelists will explore ways to address this question.
